

NAME AYESHA ASCAM
 BS (DT) 4th Semester
 ID# 14795

BEHAVIOURAL SCIENCE

Question: :-

What is the difference b/w paternalist and consumerist type of doctor-patient relationship?

There is a unique social relationship between doctor and patient to achieve treatment goals, relieve patient suffering & prevent illness -

DIFFERENCE BETWEEN PATERNALIST AND CONSUMERIST DPR:-

PATERNAUST	CONSUMERIST
• Physician control high	Physician control low
• It is widely regarded as traditional form of DPR.	Reverse of very basic power nature of relationship.
• It refers as the relation in which the decision is taken	It is type of relation in which the patient is taking decision.

by the doctor in order to benefit patient	while the doctor is passive.
---	---------------------------------

- | | |
|--|--|
| • In this relation
doctor is dominant
act as father | In this relation
the patient is
active and doctor
to follow patient's
opinion. |
| • Patient accept that paternal act as
follow doctor guid-
line. | Patient reduce
doctor's control. |

* — * — * — *

Question: 2:-

Which one is more effective
type of doctor-patient relationships

MOST EFFECTIVE TYPE OF DPR :-

One is most effective
type of doctor-patient
relationship is "MUTUALITY".

MUTUALITY :-

- It is one of the most effective type of DPR
because the doctor and patient can have mutual relation, and are both

- are equal partners.
- Mutuality is characterized by shared decision and exchange of ideas.
 - This relation show neither the patient nor the doctor is standing aside.
 - Both the doctor & patient bring strength & resources to the relationship -
 - Patient need to define their problem and the doctor need to ~~work~~ overcome the problem and treat the request.
 - Both doctor and patient are treated as expert and their own regard.

* — * — * — *

Question: - 3:-

Write a detail note on interviews?

INTERVIEW:-

An interview is specifically essentially a structured conversation between two, where the one participant ask question and the other provide answer.

- of talk, discussion, meeting or dialogue between two or more.

TYPES OF INTERVIEW:-

There are five types of interview, which are given below:-

1: PANEL INTERVIEW:-

In this type of interview in which one applicant and several interviewers,

- In the panel interview, there is three to six members which are having different role in organization ask candidate question to assess their knowledge, skills etc.
- Eye contact with each person specially with the questioner.

Example:-

- armed force recruitment,
- admission interview, hiring manager.

2. ONE-TO-ONE INTERVIEW:-

- It is the most common interview where only the interviewer and interviewee is present.
- The format of this interview is conversational with interviewer plans in beginning and the interviewee asking question in the end.
- Also remember ^{emph} the body language and make good eye-contact.
- One person can take interview an interaction b/w interviewer and interviewee.

Examples:-

job interview, counseling session, viva etc.

3:- VIDEO-CONFERENCE INTERVIEW:-

- This type of interview is more common now.
- A video-call interview is a type of interview which is conducted via video, rather than over phone or in person.

- They expand the scope of searching for qualified candidate with less cost and time involvement

Examples

National and multinational jobs requirement.

4. PRESENTATION / DEMO INTERVIEW:-

- This type of interview required presentation of already selected topic by interviewer in front of random assembled panel.
- Question asked in between presentation as well as end of presentation

Example:-

Class assignment, teacher's selection, marketing.

5:- CASE PRESENTATION:-

- In this interview the candidate is provided with detail situation, problem and asked to analyze it and overcome with solution.
- The problem which is presented come in many forms. but the interviewer want to assess the analytic skills, ability to think, logical thoughts, bussiness knowledges, creativity, communication.

Example:-

Doctors, psychotherapist, marketing.

* — * — * — *

Question:-

Case Presentation:-

Suppose you are working --

 ----- but before -----

 ----- own words in detail?

Answer:-

Being a dental technologist or any other profession whenever we are dealing with the patient. the patient are in anxiety, fear and anxious state. So for to overcome the patient's anxiety and to feel his/her comfort first we need to active and clam to ourselves. than to overcome the patients anxiety try to relax his/her mental health. by ~~asking~~ ~~knowing~~ be friendly with him/her. than asking where they come from, where do they live and about his/her profession. or they like there profession. how many kids they have about there family lifestyle. and show empthy to them. than after that at the end ask an open minded question like "how are you feel now, or do there is anything I can do for you feel more comfortable".

* — * — * — *