

LEVELS OF COMMUNICATION

There are five levels of communication.

1. Intrapersonal Communication
2. Interpersonal Communication
3. Mediated communication
4. Person to Group communication
5. Mass communication

Definitions of Communication.

It is the way to Express your ideas thoughts, expression feelings or emotions through verbal or non-verbal signs and symbols...

.communication is process of transmitting n receiving verbal messages.

Interpersonal=

Intrapersonal communication is a communication or's internal us a of language or thought .it can be useful to envision intrapersonal communication caution occurring in the mind which contours a sender receiver and feedback loop it com be based on emotion feelings. Thincing .planning etc.

1.Example =

Each miming you decide how to. Dress. What to eat .where to go. Etc. this kind of internal communication funs the foundation for the other four levels of communication .

2.Example

Speaking on the phone: whether we call a friend or a taxi we are engaging in interpersonal communication. Tone of voice is as important as words when we are talking to someone verbally.

Definitions Interpersonal=

Interpersonal communication is an exchange of informal in b/w two or more people it is also on area of study and research that seeks to understand how humans use verbal and non verbal cues to a accomplish a number of personal relational goods.

1.Examples =

Sign language. Many members of the deaf community communicate using sign language which comes in many forms. British sign language (BSL) and American sing Language (ASL)are just two examples of these.

2.Examples =

Sending text message .text messaging or using similar messaging services such as WhatsApp _ is another spontaneous way of communicating often have many of the of the elements of a conversation between group of people talking in the same room though in all of the interlocutors can be scattered throughout the globe.

Mediated definitions=

While mediated communication helps to connect those who would not otherwise be able to communicate. The small group process works best when group members can be physically in the same location. Experiencing both the verbal and nonverbal communication occurring within the group process

1, Examples = and is seen as more private parties usually require technologies new computerised media such as mobile telephone or instant messaging.

2. Examples =

Hypertext distance learning internet forums. Usenet. Newsgroups. Bulletin boards. Online shopping distribution lists and videoconferencing.

- Definitions Mass communication=

Mass Communication is a process in which person, group of people or an organisation sends a message through a channel of communication to a large group of anonymous and heterogeneous people and organisations. Mass communication is the process whereby media organisations produce and transmit messages to large publics and the process by which those messages are sought, used, understood, and influence.

1. Examples

Books. Television. Large gatherings addressed by a leader. Newspaper.

Mass communication represents the creation and sending of a heterogeneous message to a large heterogeneous audience through the media.

2. Example

look through a close up lens at the individual receivers of the content the audience and ask on how they use mass communication.