

1
Name Nazish

ID 6861

Subject Professional Practices

Question No 1

If a company of software engineers builds a software that is ultimately deemed federally illegal, then such thing is an illegal act for software engineer or that company and they are liable to be potentially sued or legally punished.

If an act is illegal, then ultimately it is unethical and immoral.

Software is developing in a complex legal and economic framework. If software engineer builds a program or anything that is legal, correct, but affects some one's jurisdiction.

2

intellectual property or privacy etc. than that is considered legal but immoral and unethical.

• Is a software engineer has done something that is legally and morally correct than that cannot be unethical.

Question No 2

As right now are glancing numerous adjustment in programming industry like online like application, portable games and prospering web based business industry. that is all because of morals. As a result of morals characterizes socially worthy practices built up by different associations to create a beneficial outcome on judgment, to set up duty of experts to act morally as per the approaches and methods of their managers, proficient associations and laws of society. That is the reason instructive establishments remember morals mindfulness for programming designing.

3

Question No 3

PC Ethics. Morals is a lot of rules that administer the conduct of a gathering or person. Thusly PC moral advances the conversion of how much impact PC ought to have in territories. For example, man-made consciousness and human correspondence.

Digital morals allude to the code of dependable contact on the internet. Similarly, as we are educated to act dependably in regular day to day existence with exercises,

For example don't take what doesn't have a place with you and do not hurt others we should act capably in the digital world also.

Following some Example.

Copyrighting or Downloading
Crime and Punishment
Internet Hacking
Cyberbullying.

Question No 4

(a) Ali is obviously doing illegal immoral and unethical practice by not paying for software code.

If the code is open source, Ali has to at least acknowledge the addition of the code by giving reference to that respective code.

(b) The Component is Copyrighted. It's illegal and if it is not copyrighted then it is still immoral and unethical to incorporate acknowledge that he/she is using someone else's work but colleagues should be supportive to their other colleagues.

(c) Samsung programmer has to mention full set of vulnerabilities because anyone's data can be hacked or compromised. It is unethical and immoral and can be illegal if someone used the company by doing and it.

(d) This racial discrimination against brown and black people because everyone should have equal opportunity to have one type of card.

6

This is immoral and unethical but not illegal but there are no actual law suite against it.

Question No 5

If you need to take part, you will have to pay for legal, moral and ethical presence. If there is something that they do not need to participate, and they are doing their own, you are not able to pay them. However if you want to do so, it will definitely encourage, and if you refuse it it will surely reduce the motivation.