"A wedding ceremony of cousin that I attended recently"

The marriage of my cousin which took place last month we were invited especially for that occasion. So I reached my uncle's house two days before the marriage day. Preparations for the marriage were in full swing. Lots of things had been purchased and the rest were to be purchased on that very day. My Uncle was very glad to see me and took me there for the purchases.

We bought a number of things as per list he had prepared. It was late in the evening when we arrived home with everything. We were tired too. By nightfall it felt the preparations were complete at all. And the next day was the wedding day.

The reception of the marriage party was scheduled at 8 pm.

A big canopy was set up for the reception for the marriage party. It was decorated with different paper bunting's. Special arrangements were made for dinner in adjoining Shamina. Confessions set to work preparing nice dishes to be served to the marriage party. The front of the house was beautifully arranged with electric bulbs. Everyone was busy and no one even thought of taking these meals.

At last it was evening. The whole house presented bridal look. My cousin put on her bridal dress. She looked like a fairy in her dress.

Now the guests started pouring in. They were served with light refreshment.

The cameras clicked the photographs of many guests as well of bridal and my cousin. After the dinner most of the members of the marriage-party did not stay for night only the close relation members stayed for the night. On this occasion there were tears in the eyes of everyone belong relation of bridal. But they were all happy that everything had gone very well at this wedding ceremony.
