

Name ... wajid ali

ID 15021

Paper .. behaviour science

page (1)

ID : 15021

NAME : WAJID ALI

① NO 4

Difference between paternalist and consumerist type Doctor patient relationship.

⇒ Definition:

→ The interaction established between physician and patient to return to health, relieve patient suffering and prevent disease.

⇒ Importance

The quality of doctor patient relationship is important for both parties (physician and patient).

• A strong relationship b/w doctor and patient when lead to collection maximum and quality information about the patient disease and better health care for patient and their family.

⇒ paternalistic.

- It refers to interaction in which decision is taken by the health care professional order to benefit the patient.
- Doctor as a father
- patient except that paternal role of doctor and follow his guideline.

= Consumerist

- That the type of interaction in which patient is active and take decision, while doctor is passive
- Doctor follows the patient's opinions
- patient reduce doctor's control.

page (3)

⇒ types:

- Doctor expectation.
- Reality / truth.
- trust
- respect
- to be listened

⇒ patient expectation.

- patient expect and doctor.
- to be listened to
- acceptance
- Honesty
- treatment.

⇒ if patient expectation are not met --

- patient may.
- lose trust
- Become depressed / angry
- not follow advice
- Find another doctor.

page (4)

⇒ If doctor expectance are not met..

- Doctor may.
- Become annoyed
- refuse to see that's patient again
- not listen properly or ignore that patient
- refer to another doctor.

Page (5)

Q NO "3"

Answer No "3"

=> Interview

- It is conversation where questions are asked and answers are given.
- A talk, discussion, a meeting are a dialogue more.

=> Types of Interview.

① panel interview.

- The panel interview, typically three to six members having different roles and organizations ask candidate questions to assess their knowledge, skill, ability, make decisions, etc.

Example

armed force recruitment
admission interview, job
interview.

page (6)

⇒ 12) one-to-one interview.

one to one interview one person take the interview interaction between the interviewer and interviewee.

Example.

Job interview, Counseling session

⇒ 13) Video Conference Interview

Video conference interview are becoming more common they expand the scope searching for qualified candidates less cost and time involvement.

Example

National and multinational jobs,

⇒ 4) presentation / demo

interview.

- This type of interview requires preparation of already topic interviewer and front randomly assembled panel.
- questions are asked b/w presentation as well as the presentation.

Example.

Class assignment.

Teacher, marketing.

=> Skill for interview.

- (1) Build rapport.
- (2) Show empathy
- (3) Use active listening
- (4) Ask open-ended question
- (5) Ask closed-ended question
- (6) Use leading question
- (7) Avoid "Why" question

Q NO 4
Answer NO 4

This most common observation is that the name every surgery is being feared and phobic. But dental patient feeling more anxiety and fear than other patient, as result dental anxiety and phobia lead to avoidance of dental care. This problem frequently occur in dental office so acceptable evidence base therapeutic essential for such patient. Being a dental technologies, broadly dental, anxiety and stress can be managed by physiotherapeutic intervention (confirmation pharmacological intervention).

page (9)

Consolidation of both depend upon level of anxiety, patient characteristic and clinical situation. Can be manage by using sedative or general anesthesia, at aim are behaviour medication therapies to change unacceptable behaviour.

The Cognitive behaviour therapy is combination of cognitive and behaviour therapy and most acceptances and successful physiological treatment for anxiety and phobia.

In certain situation where patient able to respond to and cooperate well with physician therapeutic intervention is not willing undergoes these type treatment of

page No (1) (10)

and Considered dental phobia
The pharmacological intervention
such as general anesthesia are sedation should be used Following this cognitive,
behavior and pharmacological Therapies dental patient can be easily reassured for ~~over~~ oral surgery.

① NO 2

Answer NO (2)

The maturity one of the most effective type of doctor patient relationship because in this type some of important works.

⇒ mutual relationship doctor and patient

⇒ meeting between understanding patient.

⇒ Both are equal partner.

⇒ exchanged of Idea.

Leport says ability to explain
The most important quality in health
doctor - patient partnership
This is the most effective way gain the trust of the patient